

2002 LBJ JOURNAL OF PUBLIC AFFAIRS EDITORIAL BOARD

KATHRYN SUPINSKI, M.P.Aff. (2002).

Kathryn graduated from Whitman College in 1994 with a bachelor of arts in Spanish Language and Literature. Prior to enrolling in the LBJ School, she worked in Portland, Oregon for an affordable housing advocacy organization; in Sacramento, California for a nonprofit affordable housing developer, and; in San Francisco for a nonprofit community reinvestment advocacy organization. She will return to San Francisco upon graduation to work with the U.S. General Accounting Office in its Financial Markets and Community Investment group. Her graduate professional report is an analysis of the political and economic consequences of state-chartered foreign capital depository institutions in the United States.

MONA NICHOLS, M.P.Aff. (2003).

Mona is a first-year master's student at the LBJ School of Public Affairs. She earned a bachelor of business administration in international business and a bachelor of arts in European history from the University of Texas at Austin. Mona worked for the Texas Senate for two years as a researcher and writer for a third volume of the history of the Texas Senate, which will cover the years 1890 through 1920. She is currently focusing on public finance at the LBJ School.

COREY A. WALROD, M.P.Aff., M.B.A. (2004).

Corey graduated from the U.S. Air Force Academy in 1989 and subsequently served ten years in the U.S. Air Force as an instructor pilot in the Air Education and Training Command, and as a helicopter pilot and operations planner in the Air Force Special Operations Command. He later worked as a security analyst with Stratfor.com prior to entering the joint master's degree program in public affairs and business administration at the LBJ School of Public Affairs and the McCombs School of Business at the University of Texas at Austin.

KRISTEN LINDBERG, M.P.Aff. (2003).

Kristen graduated from Smith College in 1998 with a degree in economics. After graduating, she spent three years working in the field of economic consulting, gaining experience in consulting, research, report writing, and litigation. She hopes to focus her future efforts in either education policy or health policy.

MAGGIE SHEER, M.P.Aff., J.D. (2004).

Maggie is a first year joint degree student at the LBJ School of Public Affairs and the University of Texas School of Law. She graduated with a bachelor of science degree in Environmental Science and Policy and a bachelor of arts degree in Spanish Translation from the University of Maryland at College Park in 2001. Her interests include conflict and dispute resolution, Latin American issues, and environmental policy.

ELIZABETH C. KAUFMAN, M.P.Aff. (2003).

Elizabeth graduated from Colorado College with a bachelor of arts in Sociology and International Relations. Her experience includes domestic public policy and international issues within the public and nonprofit sectors. Most recently, she worked as a foster care case manager in Chicago. Her policy interests include health care, child welfare, and public aid programs.

SARAH STOUT, M.P.Aff. (2003).

Sarah is a first year student at the LBJ School with an interest in health policy and finance. Prior to enrolling at the LBJ School, she worked on various health policy issues for U.S. Senator Paul Wellstone and for a consulting firm in Washington, D.C. and New York City. She earned a bachelor of arts in Political Science and Spanish from the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

RAJASVINI BHANSALI, M.P.Aff. (2002).

Vini, a native of India, has undergraduate degrees in Astrophysics and Interdisciplinary Studies in Humanities from the University of California at Berkeley. She currently works as a senior research analyst for the City of Austin Community Health Centers. In her second year at the LBJ School, Vini's policy interests are telecommunications and community technology and foreign policy.

BARBARA SCROGGIE KNAGGS, M.P. Aff. (2003).

Barbara graduated with highest honors from the University of Texas in 1987 with a bachelor of arts in Plan II. She completed a two-year management training program at Paine Webber in New York before returning to UT to obtain a secondary teaching certificate. For five years, she taught English and history at an Austin-area high school, and then worked as an editor at Holt, Rinhart and Winston, a textbook publisher. Her interests include education policy and nonprofit management.

ALLISON BRADLEY, M.P.Aff., M.B.A. (2004).

Allison graduated from Rice University with a bachelor of arts in Policy Studies and Psychology. She has worked in K-12 and higher education policy and spent the last few years as a management consultant to state agencies and nonprofits. Allison is interested in social entrepreneurship and innovative cooperation among the public, private, and nonprofit sectors, primarily in the areas of education and economic development.

LAURA K. GRUND, M.P.Aff. (2002).

Laura graduated from Union College with a bachelor of arts in Spanish Language and Literature.

Prior to graduate school, she worked in Washington, D.C., first at Public Citizen and later as press secretary for U.S. Senator Russ Feingold.

TEDD HOLLADAY, M.P.Aff. (2003).

Originally from New Mexico, Tedd obtained a bachelor of arts in History from Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Texas. Prior to joining the staff of the LBJ Journal, Tedd worked as an associate editor at the Met Magazine, an alternative news weekly, and as an editorial assistant at Harcourt College Publishers. His interests include international development, labor rights, and Texas Rangers baseball.

TODD D. COHEN, M.P.Aff. (2003).

Todd graduated from Syracuse University in 1996 with a bachelor of arts in Public Policy. Prior to graduate school, he worked in Washington D.C. in the U.S. Senate and as a program officer for an international and workforce development nonprofit organization. Todd's policy interests include urban development, public-private partnerships, and communications.